ISLAND IS DIVIDED

The Government Agrees to Terms as Fixed.

As a result of a compromise which has been approved by Attorney General Knox, the title to Quarantine Island has finally become settled in the United States government and the long delayed improvements may be made there as soon as the appropriation becomes available. The suit of Geo. B. McClellan vs. Dr. Cofer as chief medical officer of the United States quarantine service, will very likely be dismissed in the Federal Court. The compromise was effected by United States Attorney Breckons, and both he and Dr. Cofer are highly elated over the approval of the arrangement, the news of which was brought in the Advertiser's special telegraphic service last night.

McClellan was not the real party at interest, the adverse claim to Quarantine Island being made by the Dowsett Estate, the Sumner Estate and the B. F. Dillingham Company. By the terms of the compromise these parties retain title to that portion of Quarantine Island north of a line drawn from a point 1500 feet from the northernmost portion of the island, through the northernmost portion of Sumner's Island. A channel six hundred feet wide half on each side of this line, is to be left open for a waterway, and will give a considerable more harbor room.

The successful outcome of these negotiations is of considerable importance to the city of Honolulu, as it means that the principal quarantine station will be located here, instead of being removed to Pearl Harbor, as was intended in case the compromise failed. There will be about thirty-five acres of land and water at the disposal of the Marine Hospital Service, and the nearest building will be twelve hundred feet away. There are but five acres of dry land on the island, but the area will be largely increased as soon as the government begins the work of filling and grading.

Among the improvements is contemplated the erection of a number of fine buildings, a hospital, disinfecting plant, offices, etc. New piers are also to be constructed, and possibly barracks for soldiers in case transports are quarantined here.

DR. GOTO ONCE MORE IN HONOLULU

The Man Who Came Here in 1893 to Cure Leprosy.

Dr. Goto, the talented Japanese physician who lived in Honolulu several years ago, and who treated the lepers at Moikoi, is visiting again in the city, having arrived on the Nippon Maru en route to Yokohama. Dr. Goto achieved considerable prominence here by introducing among lepers the use of hot baths modified with some vegetable matter, adding for the patient a vegetable pill. The treatment was also accompanied by an infusion of vegetable medicine.

These baths were first tried at the Kaili receiving station and then at the settlement, where they became quite popular among the lepers, especially the natives. While the Board of Health did not believe that the treatment was beneficial, yet the popularity of the hot bath and its accompaniments had a moral effect upon the lepers to such an extent that they felt they were being helped. The board allowed the use of Dr. Goto's remedies until recently, when they were discontinued, owing to the expense attached.

The Japanese physician is not considered to be a man of modern scientific education, but one who uses the arts of the physicians of the old school of Japan to a large extent. His father before him was a physician, and used the same remedies on lepers. He was an old fashioned doctor with a purely Japanese style of treatment.

LESLIE WAS IN HONOLULU

Man Charged With Check Forgery Spent Last Winter Here.

SUISUN, May 3.—George E. Leslie, pretended plutocrat, esthete, man of the world and bon vivant, is in the hands of the police in Portland, Or., and soon will be in a cell in Suisun, and all because of a paltry $50. It is not the $50 that is the immediate cause of his downfall, but a draft for that amount which it is alleged is a forgery.

Leslie, as he is known, registered at the Arlington Hotel on April 3d. Next day he called on W. H. Edwards, manager of Barker R. D. Robbins' orchard, the largest in Suisun valley. The men had met in New York a year before and Leslie had accompanied Edwards to the Pacific Coast. He gave the talk and appearance of a man of unlimited wealth and carried packages of credentials. His wardrobe, too, was as extensive as his tastes. Last month when he called on Edwards, he inspected the property and ostensibly closed a deal

WORKING FOR FIRE CLAIMS

nothing else to replace it would not merely destroy the invested capital of Hawaii and ruin the investors; it would require white residents to seek new homes elsewhere to avoid a turbulent, dangerous class of heterogeneous population now engaged in that industry who would then be unemployed. No good to any one would result, but much harm would come to American interests. Unwise legislation for Hawaii may discourage the gradual increase of an intelligent American population, and throw the country over to the Orientals, the very thing which annexation was intended by the Americans in Hawaii to prevent.

"I wish you would introduce an amendment to strike out the amendment referred to, which is in paragraph 55 of the organic act."

Delegate Wilcox was one of the guests at the garden party held at the White House Monday evening last.

Mr. W. R. Castle and Mr. P. C. Jones, of Honolulu, are here as delegates to the National Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution, which has been in session this week.
